MOUNTAINS TO SOUND GREENWAY

Stretching 100 miles from the eastern Cascades to the Seattle waterfront, the Mountains to Sound Greenway is an interconnected landscape of forested mountains, natural areas, working forests and farms, and communities along Interstate 90. These open spaces offer breathing room for a growing population and an answer to the challenge of balancing development with a healthy natural environment. The Mountains to Sound Greenway provides trails and recreational opportunities, wildlife habitat, clean air and water, and preserves elements of cultural history.
